

Briefs: James Carville to host sports show on XM

January 23 2006

Democratic strategist James Carville will host a sports show on XM Satellite Radio together with Luke Russert, son of NBC journalist Tim Russert.

"This show will be another opportunity for me to engage in the back-and-forth debates on sports that, until now, Luke and I have limited to the stadium," Carville said in a news release. "I talk about sports the same way I talk about politics, so it's safe to assume that Luke will be wrong most of the time."

A political adviser to former President Bill Clinton, Carville has been a political commentator for CNN and worked on Sen. John Kerry's presidential campaign as well.

Copyright 2006 by United Press International

Citation: Briefs: James Carville to host sports show on XM (2006, January 23) retrieved 18 April 2024 from <https://phys.org/news/2006-01-james-carville-host-sports-xm.html>

This document is subject to copyright. Apart from any fair dealing for the purpose of private study or research, no part may be reproduced without the written permission. The content is provided for information purposes only.
--