

Hulu Plus set to hit 1 mln subscribers

February 3 2011

(AP) -- Hulu Plus, the video subscription plan that charges $8 a month to watch a range of TV shows online, will have 1 million paying customers this year and post annual revenue of more than $200 million.

That's the forecast given by its chief executive, Jason Kilar, in a blog post late Wednesday.

The blog came on the heels of the announcement of a new content distribution deal with Viacom Inc. to replay hit shows like "Jersey Shore." The shows will be available to subscribers 21 days after they first run on MTV and after Viacom has a chance to show reruns on its websites.

The deal, which also brings "The Daily Show with Jon Stewart" and "The Colbert Report" back to the free version of Hulu online, runs into mid-2012.

©2010 The Associated Press. All rights reserved. This material may not be published, broadcast, rewritten or redistributed.

Citation: Hulu Plus set to hit 1 mln subscribers (2011, February 3) retrieved 26 April 2024 from <https://phys.org/news/2011-02-hulu-mln-subscribers.html>

This document is subject to copyright. Apart from any fair dealing for the purpose of private study or research, no part may be reproduced without the written permission. The content is provided for information purposes only.
--