

Mysterious light over Gateway Arch stumps St. Louis

August 4 2016

In this July 11, 2009, file photo thousands watch a concert by Sheryl Crow under the Gateway Arch in St. Louis. Video shows a mysterious light appearing high over the arch on August 2, 2016. (AP Photo/Jeff Roberson, File)

A light that appeared high over St. Louis' Gateway Arch is perplexing officials.

The mystery started when an Illinois man shot video of the light early Tuesday morning and shared it with KTVI-TV . After seeing the report, an employee at an Illinois park across the river from the arch took a look at footage from a security camera and also saw the same light.

The video has been posted on the park's Facebook page.

Mike Buehlhorn, director of the Metro East Parks and Recreation District, says he doesn't know if he believes in UFOs, but "there's something weird with that one."

Spokesmen for the nearby Scott Air Force Base and the Federal Aviation Administration say they know nothing about the source of the light.

© 2016 The Associated Press. All rights reserved.

Citation: Mysterious light over Gateway Arch stumps St. Louis (2016, August 4) retrieved 23 June 2024 from <https://phys.org/news/2016-08-mysterious-gateway-arch-stumps-st.html>

This document is subject to copyright. Apart from any fair dealing for the purpose of private study or research, no part may be reproduced without the written permission. The content is provided for information purposes only.
--