

Nearly 50 people taken to hospitals after Texas tornado

April 30 2017

Nearly 50 people have been taken to hospitals after a tornado swept through the East Texas city of Canton.

A spokeswoman for ETMC Regional Healthcare Systems says its hospitals in the area have received 47 patients so far, including one in critical condition. Spokeswoman Rebecca Berkley says a handful of other patients were en route following the Saturday evening storm.

National Weather Service meteorologist Mark Fox says at least one tornado hit Canton, about 50 miles (80 kilometers) east of Dallas. He says tornadoes also were reported in surrounding areas.

Video from local television stations shows uprooted trees, damaged homes and overturned cars along roadways. A local car dealership also was hit.

© 2017 The Associated Press. All rights reserved.

Citation: Nearly 50 people taken to hospitals after Texas tornado (2017, April 30) retrieved 2 May 2024 from <https://phys.org/news/2017-04-people-hospitals-texas-tornado.html>

This document is subject to copyright. Apart from any fair dealing for the purpose of private study or research, no part may be reproduced without the written permission. The content is provided for information purposes only.
--